4 ARIS Administration Roadmap Highlights

Flows for ARIS (SR27/SR28)

- Process Governance in the web
- Workflows beyond ARIS

Process Automation, Process Governance in Web, AI-infused

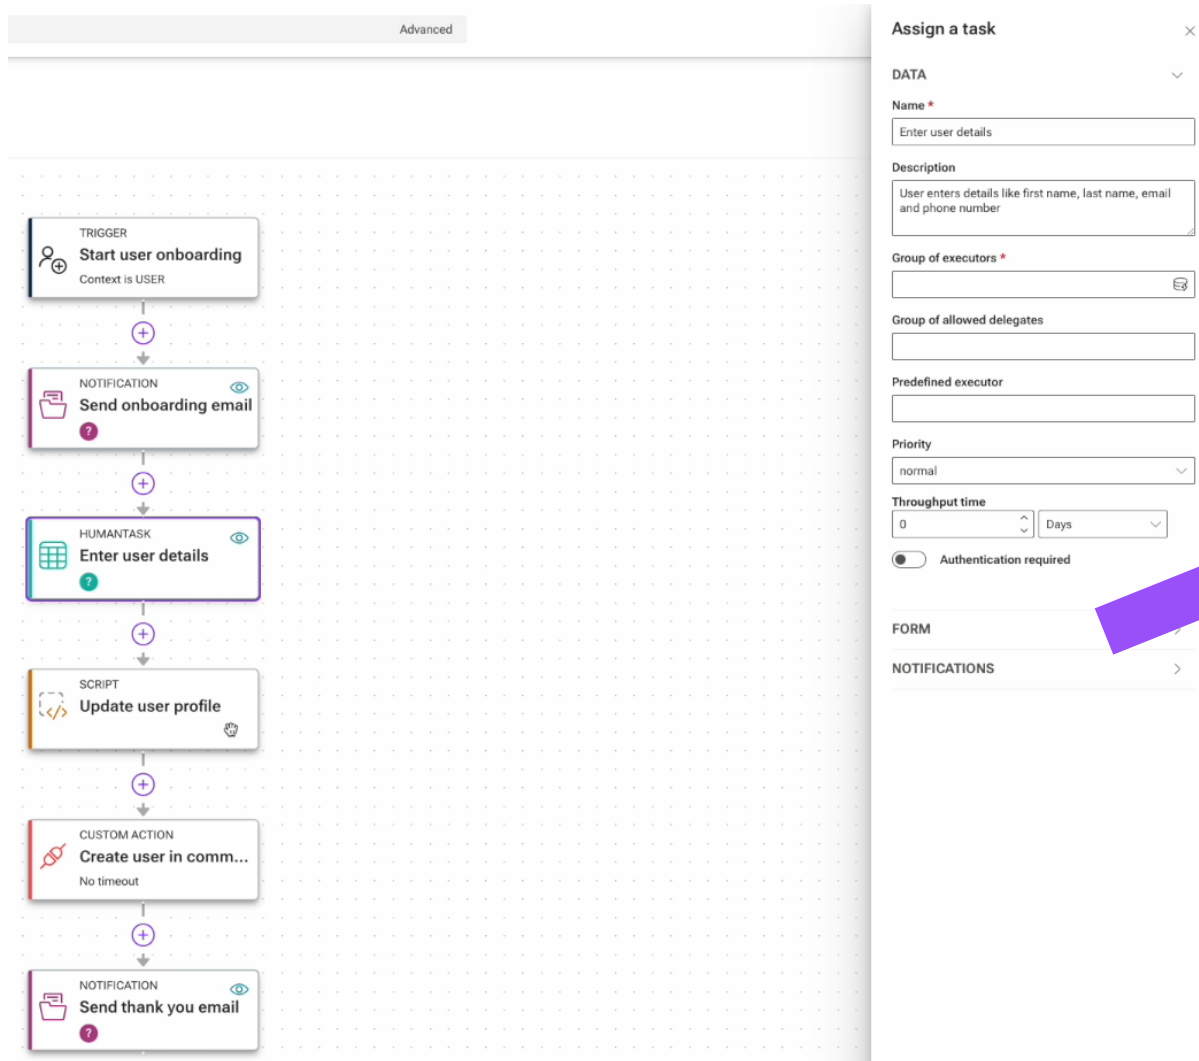

Use AI to generate a base structure of the workflow

The screenshot displays the ARIS Flows software interface. At the top, a navigation bar includes the ARIS logo, a search bar, and the text 'Advanced'. Below this, a large light blue banner contains the text 'Let's create your new ARIS flow. How can I support you?' and a text box with a 'Generate' button. The text box contains the following prompt: 'Create a workflow for user onboarding where a new user receives a mail to perform a task to enter his/her details like First name, last name, email, and phone number. Which then is used to update the user profile. Also, create the user in the ARIS Community. Finally, send a thank you email to the user regarding the ARIS Community and ask for help in the community.'

Below the banner, a 'Get started' section offers four options: 'Create new flow', 'Onboarding', 'Change request', and 'Approve model'. A large purple arrow points from the 'Generate' button in the banner to the right side of the interface, where a workflow diagram titled 'User Onboarding Workflow' is displayed. The diagram consists of a vertical sequence of steps connected by downward arrows:

- TRIGGER: Start user onboarding (Context is USER)
- NOTIFICATION: Send onboarding email
- HUMAN TASK: Enter user details
- SCRIPT: Update user profile
- CUSTOM ACTION: Create user in comm... (No timeout)
- NOTIFICATION: Send thank you email
